

Criminal Justice and Special Projects Manager

Wood County, Ohio ADAMHS

The Wood County ADAMHS (Alcohol, Drug and Mental Health Services) Board of Wood County, Ohio is seeking applications for the position of Criminal Justice and Special Projects Manager. The ADAMHS office is in Bowling Green, Ohio.

The position requires, at minimum, a master's degree in an appropriate discipline with experience in criminal justice, behavioral health care, clinical supervision, administration, or professional administration, and experience in the alcohol, drug addiction, or mental health field. Benefits offered are competitive.

The selection process includes job interviews, reference and background checks as well as other appropriate job screening methods. Please refer to our website www.wcadamh.org for information on applying for the position. All resumes, references and salary requirements should be submitted by November 20, 2020 by 4 p.m. to Britni Fackler at bfackler@wcadamh.org. The Wood County Board is an Equal Opportunity Employer.